

MIGRATION SERIES BY TRANSNATIONAL PRESS LONDON

TURKISH MIGRATION 2016

SELECTED PAPERS Compiled by Deniz Eroğlu, Jeffrey H. Cohen and Ibrahim Sirkeci

These papers are a corrective to the limits of the poles and to any other models that seek to dehumanize migrants and cast refugees as the victims of processes they cannot control. Our interests range across the social sciences and the humanities and engage with experiences and theories that contextualize mobility and look beyond the limits of the news cycle to answer fundamental questions about mobility and Turkish migration. The voices represented define some of the very best work taking place around the world and exploring the outcomes of mobility.
